

Today, we live in an electronic age. Many of us pay our mortgage payments, car payments, utility bills and credit cards electronically. We become very accustomed to when the payment will be automatically deducted from our checking account.

With Electronic Contribution, you can also deduct your Sunday offering in the same way. It is a way to keep your giving consistent. When you are away for a weekend, your gift will be there. It's good stewardship—giving of your first fruits; you can rest assured knowing you are supporting your parish even on Sundays when you are away.

You will receive your offering envelopes and we encourage you to continue to participate in the Offertory by placing your envelope in the collection; simply check the box on your envelope that says "Gift given electronically".
